The JONES FAMILY

OF ANDOVER

Hugh Jones, born presumably about 1630, came from Wincanton, Somersetshire, England, to Salem, about 1650. Tradition has it that he came to an untimely end, hastened during the witchcraft trials. It is said that Elizabeth Booth ^{was} ^{by} /accused/ Elizabeth Proctor, of murdering Hugh Jones because ^{she} owed her for a keg of cider. In fact, his ghost appeared to Elizabeth Proctor and told her about it.

Bartlett said that Hugh Jones married first, Hannah(3) Tompkins, daughter of John(2) Tompkins and wife, Margaret, born in Salem, 1641; died 1672. Hugh took for a second wife, Mary Foster, daughter of John Joster and wife, Martha Tompkins, born 1650. They were married in 1672. She moved to North Woburn, which was later set off to Wilmington, and she died there in 1717.

She taught summer school for 23 summers. Under her care in 1787 were :-

Daniel Abbott, Job Abbott, Charles Abbott; Daniel Cummings, Ben Jenkins, Abiel Russell of South Parish; Herman Abbott, Joshua Abbott, David Abbott; Jonathan and Ezra Abbott; Nathan, Lydia, Anne and William Abbott; Joshua Chandler; Eliza and Chandler Dane; Lavinia and Sarah Gleason; Solomon and Joshua Holt; Thomas Clark; Joshua Phelps; Herman and Eliza Moore; Ballard and Orpah Lovejoy; Nathan Shattuck; Herman Barnard; Henry Wardwell, of West Parish.

David (6) Jones, (b. Jan. 1804) lived west of the Church in West Parish. During a snow storm he went to Lawrence to get provisions but must have become bewildered when near Simeon Ames' place, wandered off the road into the woods and died of exhaustion. Folks breaking out the roads Jan. 4, noticed a dog that kept going back and forth into the woods. They followed him and found the body of Jones. His dog had waited beside him for 6 days and nights, although she had two puppies at home that died for want of her care. She had pawed the snow away from her master and lain down beside him to keep him warm.

In Salem Quarterly Ct., Vol. 3, page 127, 1639:- Barbery, wife of a Clark, is to be whipped for unchaste words and "is not to have to do with this man Joanes, who is a married man", and Joanes is to "be set in stocks for drunkenness and fined for his carriage with the said Mrs. Clark."

Foster Book, page 206.

I feel sure that this has a line on the line of old Hugh(1) Jones, in the person of Capt. Enabod Jones, a Boston Tory, who, in 1775, after the Battle of Bunker Hill, loaded a vessel for Machias, Me., with provisions for his relatives. He was to bring back lumber and wood for the King's troops. While loading the lumber, his boat and another British vessel were captured by Ben (4) Foster. Col. Ben's grandson, Jacob Foster, later married Anna Jones of the Machias, Me., Jones' line.

Notes from Mary N. Tyler Jones of Wakefield to Miss Abbott, July 5, 1901

" Capt. Ebenezer(3) Jones went out on the expedition against Crown Point in 1755. A bill of his expenses (presumably the original) with muster roll of his company, I have seen at the State House. The dates are Sept. 9, 1755-Jan. 3, 1756; the bill is dated-Boston, Feb. 22, 1756.

His son, Ebenezer(4) accompanied him and an item of expense was:-
 'Giting 2 of my men home from Sheffield who were sick-they were Ebenezer, Jr., and William Durcin.

So, Capt. Ebenezer(3) was not a stranger to the country when he went out in 1758, to meet his death at the age of 59.

Mr. Samuel Abbott who died during that same campaign was father to Elizabeth who married Ebenezer(5) Jones.

...Capt. Ebenezer(3) Jones was received into full communion at Wilmington church, April 4, 1756, and I think his will was made just before he left for Lake George in 1758, for he leaves his house and buildings to Jacob(4), the younger son, who was married May 18, 1758. (Ebenezer(4) the older was married a year later, after his father's death.)

His land on the East side of Martin's brook in Wilmington and Reading, he left to Ebenezer(4), while lands on the West side the brook, were given, with the buildings, to Jacob (4), with a right to wife, Phebe... To Jacob(4) was given his right in the sawmill at Rattlesnake brook in Andover.

I have wondered why Ebenezer(4) did not receive the homestead-perhaps because he was not married at the time, and had commenced a soldier's life- while Jacob's taste was for the farm.

Nov. 30, 1758, widow Phebe quit-claims to Jacob(4), all rights in the property of her late husband except the use of half the house and yard, etc., as specified in his will. The quit-claim was made the same month that Sam'l Thompson returned home with the sad news of Captain Ebenezer's death.

Widow Phebe speaks very affectionately of her husband's children and remembers them all in her will of 1764, when she died. We think we have her warming-pan in the family now.

Capt. Ebenezer(4) Jones' home has been identified as the present Haley place in North Wilmington, not far below Foster's Pond- a beautiful location. Jacob(4) bought the Darius Abbott homestead in Andover in 1776 and sold the Wilmington estate in 1782. I cannot decide when he first moved to Andover nor whether he himself ever occupied the Darius Abbott place, until recently owned by Hezekiah Jones.

Both Ebenezer and Jacob(4) are on list of Patriots in Revolution, and Jacob(4) was on Lexington Alarm list."
