

The CLARK FAMILY

Copy of a letter written March 2, 1896 by Geo. L. Clark, son of Hobart Clark, to M. C. Andrews. (An abstract only.)

" Your letter duly received. I assure you I was glad to hear from you. You speak of using my father's portrait, with my permission. It belongs to the Town of Andover, therefore I have nothing to say in regard to it. One thing, I would like you to do- have a card printed and hung under the portrait, with this on it :-

'HOBART CLARK

Originator and First President of the new B. and M. R.R.'

I will pay for it, and I ask it because it is due him, and again I want to impress on the people of Andover and others, that this great highway was started and inaugurated by the enterprising citizens of Andover and if there is a portrait of old Deacon Mark Newman in existence, hang that up, for he was the first subscriber to the stock, with the princely sum of $ 5,000.00, and it was for a while a great burden for him to carry, but he kept his stock and paid for it. Remember this was for stock in the Andover & Wilmington R.R., merged afterward with the B. & M. Old Dr. Woods and Prof. Emerson were among the first subscribers. The Andover & Wilmington R.R. was the first road projected to the East, and when the Eastern Road applied for a charter, it was opposed by my father, on the ground that they were the first in the field and one Eastern R.R. was sufficient for the travel.

John P. Derby is living in Saginaw, Mich. He has accumulated quite a property as a merchant. You will remember him as the son of W. Derby and nephew of Mr. Punchard.

My kindest regards,
Very truly,

your friend

George L. Clark. "

Hobart Clark built for his occupation, a three story house on Prospect Street, North Andover. He planted, at the time, just opposite the old graveyard at the Centre, four elm trees. Three of these are still flourishing and a shoot has sprung up from the roots of the 4th. He is buried in the old yard and has no stone, but the elms are his monument.

After he came to Andover to take his residence on the old Plato Eames place, the No. Andover home was bought by Davis and Furber and moved down to Cheney's Corner, to be used as a tenement house.

Mr. Clark was P.M. here for many years. and was the first president of the B. and M. R.R. I saw his son, Major George Clark, one day on the electric car.

From a gravestone I got the records:-
 George Hodges Clark, age 2..March 17, 1860, b. in Boston, /son of Joseph and Lydia.
 James Farwell Clark, age 2, Nov.27,1863 , b. in Boston, of Joseph and Lydia.
 Evidently Joseph was son of old Hobart.

The CLARK FAMILY

Another CLARK family of Andover, that of the line of Joseph Clark who married Sarah Lovejoy on Feb. 7, 1710, when he was 23 years old, may be traced back, I believe, to Edward (1) Clark, Edward(2) of Haverhill, who had his first grant there, 1652.

Edward(2) Clark and wife, Dorcas Bosworth, had Joseph (3), who was b. March 6, 1653-4. He married his stepsister, Mary Davis. She was dau. of Ephraim Davis and wife, Mary Johnson. Her mother, Mary (Johnson) Davis, a widow, married Edward Clark as his second wife, and her 2nd., husband. Mary was born March 1, 1667 and married Joseph (3) Clark on Aug. 18, 1685. Their children :-

Hannah (4), b. Oct.29, 1685 ; m. Francis Johnson as his.2nd., Apr.22 .1717,

She was then called "resident of Andover" so may have come here with her brother, Joseph. The first wife of Francis Johnson was Sarah Hawkes, step-daughter of Samuel Wardwell, and dau. of John Hawkes of Danvers; m. 1693; she d. 1716.

Joseph (4), b. Sept.6, 1687; m. Feb.7, 1710, Sarah Lovejoy of Andover. Jos. came to Andover and was apprenticed here. Was a miller.

Jonathan (4), b. Mar.25, 1690; m. 1st, Martha Ela; m.2nd., Priscilla Whittaker.

( Joseph (4) Clark was either a miller or a man employed about the farms, for he is called " laborer", until his father-in-law, Jos. Lovejoy, granted him land, in 1722. A part of the estate given to Joseph, was deeded " to dutiful daughter, Sarah, 4 acres- a parcel near the former homestead of Nicholas Nichols- adjoining Abraham Foster; also 2 parcels West of Jos. Clark's house where he now lives." Isaac and John Frye, were witnesses.

Vol. 112;273;1748... Joseph Clark, laborer, and his wife, Sarah, for 10 sh. from Nathaniel Lovejoy, deed the above land. James Parker and Timothy Lovejoy were witnesses.

Vol. 112;273;1748.... Joseph Clark, husbandman, and wife, Sarah, spinster, ( from occupation) for £ 452, sell their lands and homestead to Isaac Blunt-- North side Pine Swamp, 9 1/4 acr. buildings and orchard-( the Lovejoy orchards were famous and the section is still unrivalled for fruit growing)- Wm. Wardwell, Abraham Foster, with red and other oaks and great rocks, settle the location as the farm still called the Blunt place and owned to the present generation by heirs of Isaac Blunt, the old tavern keeper of the Revolution. This place on Highland Rd. was most likely kept as a wayside inn in the days of Joseph (4) Clark and was continued, bu Isaac Blunt. Elizabeth Cornell came of a line of Wilmington, who had always kept such an inn and the Highland Road was a section of the old highway to Woburn that parted just west into main branches to Billerica, wilmington and Boston.
