Local Teacher to Be John Dove Principal

School Committee Rescinds Previous Vote to Choose Teacher from Outside Present System and Names Miss Barrett to Vacant Post

Miss Catherine Barrett, a teacher in the Andover public schools since her graduation from Salem Normal in 1924, was appointed principal of the John Dove school at the regular meeting of the school committee Tuesday evening. The committee first voted to rescind the vote of last year's school committee to procure a principal from outside the present school system, and then unanimously approved the selection of Miss Barrett. Her appointment was by Mrs. R. N. C. Barnes as part of her report from the sub-committee on teachers. Last September the principalship question occasioned much comment when the committee passed a motion to choose someone outside the system for the position. Many citizens in Andover felt that the move was an unwise one since they felt that there were plenty of teachers in Andover who could fill the position equally as well as an outsider. No appointment was made, however, prior to the election. Mrs. Barnes stated in her report that she had been unable to find a principal who would accept her present position in order to take the lower-paid Andover principalship.

Miss Barrett resides at 102 Chestnut street. She was born in Andover and received her elementary and high school education here. She is a graduate of Stowe school and of Puncard. On graduating from the high school she was one of the honor essayists. Next she attended Salem Normal school and graduated from there in 1924. She started teaching at the Osgood school in the fall of 1924. In September, 1926, she was transferred to the John Dove school where she now teaches Grade IV. She is rated as one of the best teachers in the local schools. Her salary will be $1748.

Three teachers were elected to tenure having served three years on the present staff. They are: William McDonald and Miss Helen Munroe of the high school staff and Miss Bessie Carter of the John Dove teaching force. Miss Alice Perkins and Miss Agnes Johnson of the high school, Miss Betty Hild of West center, and Miss Alice Olliff and Miss Mary Bailey of the art department were all re-elected. Dr. Philip Blake was re-elected school physician, Miss Edith Moreton, school nurse, Miss Margaret Cronin, dental hygienist, and Miss Marion Hardy, clerk.

Miss Mary Ludington, who is principal, is serving as a substitute at the John Dove school. The position will be filled permanently next month.

An extensive report was received from the Buildings and Grounds committee with William A. Doherty, chairman supplying the information. The coal purchase question is (Continued on page 4, column 1)

Meeting Enjoyed by Women Voters

The meeting of the Andover League of Women Voters last Tuesday evening was well attended in spite of the very bad weather, and those who went felt well rewarded for their effort. The active members of the League felt that the most interesting work is that accomplished in the various study groups within the League. Tuesday's meeting was the culminating point of the study group of the Committee on Women in Industry which this winter has met a number of times with a group of girls from the Industrial club of the Lawrence Y. W. C. The meeting opened with reports on this study group by Mrs. Fay Elliott representing the League members and by Miss Olenio who spoke for the Industrial club. There followed a one-act play, "Daily Bread," acted with simplicity and great sympathy by a group of Lawrence high school girls, which gave a vivid and most moving picture of the conditions existing in so many of our American homes, where the father cannot find work and by the bitter irony of Fate, the children of the family are forced to become the bread-winners.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Margaret Weisman, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Business League. The subject of her talk was "The Cost of a Bargain," and, in an extraordinarily vivid manner, with innumerable stories drawn from actual cases, Miss Weisman explained the workings of the recent rise of sweat-shop conditions throughout the country, stressing the difficult position in which the honest employer finds himself when, in his struggle to maintain decent wages and working conditions, and to abide by the law in the matter of hours, etc., he is undercut by the conscienceless employer whose goods are manufactured by sweat-shop methods—against which his employees dare not rebel in their despotic need and in their fear of losing even the pitiful wages he is willing to pay. Ultimately the responsibility for such conditions rests with the consumer and Miss Weisman begged her audience to enquire, when buying bargains, whether or not the low prices were due to sweat-shop labor, and to have the courage to refuse to profit by the suffering and degradation of their fellow human beings.

Vale School Lawn Will Be Replanted

Work was begun yesterday morning on the tasks preparatory to putting in a new lawn at the Bradlee school. Tuesday evening at the school committee meeting it was stated that the cost would be from $2500 to $3000, but Wednesday at the request of the sub-committee on buildings and grounds Charles T. Gillard and J. Harry Plyden investigated the depth of the loam at the school and found that very little new loam would be needed. The maximum total cost of the lawn to the school committee would be $250 with the Emergency Committee providing the labor. Wednesday afternoon Mr. Gillard, Mr. Sanborn, Mr. Doherty and Mr. Grover investigated the possibility of extending the parking space near the rear of Puncard, using the loam for the Bradlee lawn and filling in with the left-over shales from the heating plant. Yesterday morning two men from the Emergency committee started removing the loam from the parking space. The work in Ballardvale will start in the near future. The work on the Central Plant walks will be done during vacation, the week of April 28.

Women's Club to Give Play April 27

"Only 38" is the play to be staged by the Dramatic department of the Shawshen Village Women's club on the evening of April 27 in Balmoral hall. This highly entertaining three-act comedy was written by A. E. Thomas, and was suggested by a short story by Walter Prichard Eaton. It was first presented on Broadway by Sam H. Harris several years ago and enjoyed a very successful run. There are no dull moments in the play, and plenty of action is assured by its very interesting and human set of characters. The cast follows: Mrs. Stanley, the widow of a Methodist minister, Mrs. J. Albion Burt; Mrs. Newcomb, a member of the late Rev. Stanley's congregation, Mrs. Frank Crawford; Mrs. Peters, another parishioner, Mrs. Fred B. Brannan; Mr. Sanborn, the father of Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens; Robert Stanley, Mrs. Eugene V. Lovely; Lucy Stanley, Mrs. Leon Field, the Stanley Twins; Mary Hadley, Lucy's friend, Mrs. Harrison Brown; Sydney Johnson, friend of Bob Stanley, Mrs. Frank Kefferstan; Professor Giddings, Mrs. Garfield S. Chase. Mrs. Frank B. Bartlett, the Business manager, is in charge of the tickets. The dramatic department of the club will meet on next Friday at the home of Mrs. Albert E. Curtis, 10 Canterbury street.

British Vets Plan to Organize Club

There will be a meeting of all the British and Canadian ex-service men in Andover in the Square and Compass club house Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. It is hoped that a permanent organization of these veterans can be effected in time to enter some marchers in the Memorial Day parade.

Need Brings Resumption of Orange Barrel Plan Again

The local merchants are again adopting the orange barrel plan this year in an effort to help the needy. Last year this plan was used for the first time and proved very successful. In most of the local grocery stores and some of the drugstores there has been placed a barrel painted bright orange. Customers are asked to put a little contribution of food into these receptacles. They in turn will be turned over to Mrs. Lotta M. Johnson, town welfare agent, who will distribute the food to those most in need.

Three Contributions in Beautification

The Highway Beautification committee has three interesting contributions to report which should be of much value to the entry of Andover in The Boston Herald contest. Mrs. T. Dennis Thomson has had planted along what is known as "The Old Railroad Walk" on Abbotswood road, twenty young pine trees. As most Andover people know, this is a delightful walk bordered on either side by lovely old pine trees. The new trees have been planted so that they may in the future take the place of the old trees and so keep it always the picture as it was in the days of Herbert Chase who contributed one hundred small evergreens and fifty Euonymus alacis which can be used to splendid advantage properly placed. Mrs. Douglas S. Byers with the help of Mrs. F. Edmund Leland, Jr., has made two interesting models, one of a roadside and other of the same house and roadside without the objectionable signs and with a general cleaning up of the roadside. The models were on exhibition at The Garden Conference. The Andover Bookstore has very kindly given the use of their window for the showing of these models in order that a greater number of people may see them. Mrs. Frederic H. Jones and Mrs. Frank T. Carlton will appreciate contributions of material or helpful suggestions for the coming work of beautifying the town of Andover.

Public Works Board Acts on Unemployed

Truck Drivers and Unemployed Granted Hearings at Meeting Monday Night—Contracts Awarded—Work to Start Soon

The Andover Board of Public Works had a busy evening Monday with two hearings, the awarding of contracts, and a meeting with the Emergency Committee. As a result it was determined to keep truck drivers at their present rate of $1.25 an hour and to rush up work on the various projects. Some of the water extensions will be started next week, the first one probably being River road.

Notify Company to Remove Equipment

The Automatic Signal Corporation, owners of the traffic control equipment on the Main and Chestnut street traffic lights, were notified this week by the Board of Selectmen to either accept $500 for the equipment or take it out. According to the terms of the contract ninety days' notice must be given the company. A representative of the company was here during the week and was informed of the town's refusal to appropriate $1000 for the lights as requested by the Signal Corporation. The company may either accept the $500, remove the entire equipment, or merely remove the unnecessary Main street traffic lights.

Town Negotiates Loan of $50,000

A loan of $50,000 was negotiated by the town of Andover on Monday. The money was obtained from the Merchants' National Bank of Boston at the rate of 3.37 per cent and is payable on November 4 of this year. The Merchants' Bank bid was the lowest of the six which were obtained. Further bids for $100,000 will be sent out in June or July.

During the year 1932, the town obtained $50,000 in March, at 5 per cent; $100,000 in June, at 2.84 per cent; and $30,000 in October at 1.5 per cent.

Runaway Truck Goes off Road

Fate punished three men yesterday morning for disregarding John Law. At 1.30 o'clock a Ford oil tank truck clattered through Shawshen square, and passed to the left of the traffic beacon, using the well-known geometric axiom that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. Officer Thomas Dailey telephoned to Officer Frank McBride at Andover square. McBride's attempt to stop the truck as it clanked through the square was unsuccessful. A phone call to the state police barracks at Reading put Commissioner Needham's men on the look-out for the truck.

At 4.30 the police were notified that the very same vehicle had gone off the road and into a field on Andover street, Ballardvale. When questioned, the men told the police they had not seen Officer McBride in the square. The truck belongs to a Stoneham firm.

Different towns were mentioned regarding their trucking costs and the amount of work done by their trucks. The work was much less than what the trucks were called upon to do here, it was stated.

Those present were told the matter would be taken under consideration by the board. Later the B. P. W. decided to keep the same wage scale of $1.25 per hour for trucks. This is the scale being paid in Methuen, North Andover and other such towns.

Punchard Classes Hold Joint Reunion

Punchard's four most recent graduating classes held a joint reunion in Punchard hall Saturday night with a large crowd in attendance. Stunts and dancing featured an evening of enjoyment in the tastefully decorated hall. Principal Nathan C. Hamblin, Mrs. Emma G. Carter, Miss Marjorie Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn were the guests of honor.

The classes staged sketches with James Scobie, president of the class of '29 as master of ceremonies. The prize went to the class of '29. A sketch, "We Get Our Man," written by William C. Crowley, Jr., and James J. Sullivan, was staged with Mr. Crowley, Mr. Sullivan and Clifford W. Wadman taking part. The class of '30 put on "The Boxing Act," with the following taking part: Edward Bradford, Samuel Gainey, James Tammany, William Green and Murray Urauhart. By a strange coincidence the classes of '31 and '32 had prepared the same stunt. No one knew what either of the other classes was to stage until the announcement. The class of '31 gave way to the class of '32 which staged the stunt. "Dining Out," with the following cast: John Twigg, Miss Gertrude Taylor and Charles Armitage.

Dancing was enjoyed to music by Lou's Amphipons from Longwood Towers, Brookline.

The general committee on arrangements: Clifford W. Wadman, chairman; William C. Crowley, Jr., Miss Josephine Hurley and Miss Jeanie Scannell, '29; Miss Margaret Laurie, Miss Dorothy Winn and William Greene, '30; Miss Elizabeth Beer, Miss Ruth Swenson and John Moriarty, '31; and Roger Whitcomb, Walter Pearson and David Petrie, '32.

Changed Concept Needed

Everyone here in the Central part of Andover has heard the statement made that Ballardvale is far ahead of the town in many respects, and the unfortunate part of it all is that it is really quite true. As far as real community spirit, that feeling of a certain unity of aim is concerned, the Vale with its very live organizations provides a lesson which Andover might well take to heart. The reason that Andover no longer has any Fourth of July celebration lies in this very lack of a unified community spirit, and the reason why the people in the center of the town have to go to Ballardvale to see an Independence Day celebration can be found in the existence of that spirit in the Vale.

To trace down the trouble to its source would probably lead us to the conclusion that it is the existence of self-centered groups that deprives us of the good times and the progress which community spirit engenders. Groups have a very definite place in a town; they provide an opportunity for social, fraternal gatherings which are small enough to allow everyone to know everyone else. Yet there is the danger of over-emphasis, and Andover has succumbed to this danger. Public entertainments are put on by one group, and only that group and a few friends attend. There has been entirely too much competition and too little co-operation between the different organizations in all their endeavors. Competition is fine if it imbues a spirit which means in the end progress, but unfortunately it too often results in a feeling of antagonism which helps no one.

Let's Murder "Old Fogey"

Some of the problems that have arisen in the past few weeks lead to the conclusion that our children are not receiving all the recreational facilities that they should. First there was the coasting problem. Unusually heavy snows gave the children the finest opportunity that they have had in recent years for coasting; new traffic regulations set aside certain streets for coasting; yet there was no money for police protection. Then there arose the problem of recreational facilities at the High School, a problem which the buildings and grounds committee of the school board is now investigating.

Andover has a fine playing field behind the Central Plant, but it never has had any gymnasium save for the privately maintained Guild. The Shawsheen Parent-Teachers' association has for years been trying to do something in this line for the children of the village, but as yet they have been unable to accomplish anything save the securing of a practice physical education teacher, with her expenses being paid out of the association funds. When the plans for the new Junior High school were formed, they included provision for a gymnasium but not even the school was approved, let alone the gymnasium. Ballardvale has a playing field, but no gymnasium.

The problem put up before the school committee had its inception in a letter from Governor Ely asking that the schools try to make some arrangements for recreation for the unemployed youth of the town. Everybody seemed to think that it was a splendid idea, but no one seemed able to offer any suggestion whereby something might be accomplished in this direction. Now however a plan has been suggested which would mean the moving of the shower rooms from the new Punched building to the old basement, and the remodeling of the large room under the present manual training rooms for purposes of recreation. As a makeshift, this is worthy of consideration, the only trouble with it being that the suggestion comes two months late and no allowance for such expenditures was made in the school department budget. The allowance for repairs at present will be taxed to the limit to take care of the work that of necessity has to be done. The plan should have been brought up before town meeting; as it is now it can only be a pauper's dream of wealth unattainable.

Twenty-five years ago John Underwood used to write a column in the Townsman entitled "From an Andover Window." His "pet peeve" seemed to be a person whom he called "old fogey," a person who was wont to oppose anything new. John Underwood is gone, but as long as the world goes on "old fogey" will continue to exist. However, it is up to the progressive-minded citizens of this community to see that "old fogey" does not rule the future of Andover. There is no need of running wild and attempting all kinds of ill-considered innovations, but certainly the town should not be as far behind the times as it is today. Andover has a fine new Post Office, thanks to the Federal Government; Andover has a fine school in Shawsheen Village, thanks to a very worthy "booster spirit" in that section of the town; Andover has a fine academy, thanks to out-of-town people who were generous in their donations for new buildings here; but Andover has no gymnasium, thanks to the fact that Andover is slow, pitifully slow.

Where we live today, the banks would probably shudder and shut down on our loans, but some day when conditions improve, let us give our children facilities at least as good as other towns. It really is distressing to visit other towns and to see their splendidly equipped gymnasiums, to see how happy the children are as they exercise on the horses, the bucks, the bars, or the rings, and then to realize that the only such opportunities our own children have come in the summer on the playground or down at the over-taxed facilities at the Guild.

Although he is gone, those that knew him, will never forget him. J. L. Thursday night the same little boy came in and said, "Don't put that piece in. The cat came back."

When the Federal government finally decided that it wanted beer, it went right ahead and adopted a plan immediately. The hesitancy of the legislature down in Boston provides a sharp contrast to the way the legislation was expedited in Washington. Probably they hadn't heard of Roosevelt's "New Deal." Everyone knew that the Federal government would approve beer, and there is no reason why some definite plan of sale could not have been arranged before this. Today the Federal Law goes into effect, and Massachusetts is still wondering how to govern the sale here.

It is hoped that the town authorities will not delay when the State finally makes up its mind. Their decision of course hinges on what the state does about it. For many years the town of Andover voted against license, and even in 1928 there was a majority against repealing the 18th amendment. However, in 1930 at the State election the vote was 1746 for repeal of the Baby Volstead act and 1179 against. This is the most recent expression of public opinion on the point, and there seems to be ample reason why the selectmen should allow the sale here. It would mean business for the local merchants, trade which would otherwise go to Lawrence.

The Beer Question

"thumping his nose at future, too, and throwing kisses at the Pabst."

"Oil discovered in Colorado Mountains"—Headline. Probably range oil.

The beer should be pretty well aged in the wood by the time the State Legislature gets its mind made up.

Siftings

We thought we were just getting out of the woods, and now Roosevelt is going to put 250,000 of us back there.

"When prohibition is repealed, Americans will become more affable," a noted educator is reported to have said. In other words, he reasons that we will get more cordial, when we get more cordials.

A Herald headline proclaims: "Common cold is cause of deafness, physician declares in New York," and we certainly intend to do our best to get pneumonia during the next political campaign.

In Boston a girl was gagged by robbers and she then assisted in capturing them. All of which again proves that you can't keep a woman from talking and get away with it.

William Allen White, on his 65th birthday, says he is "thumping his nose at the future and throwing kisses at the past." And today (April 7) almost everyone seems to be

Along Main Street

What would have happened if one of those three dot Hollywood correspondents had happened into town last week when "Henry's Wedding" was being staged? David Lowe, the gangster, in his role of Henry, was to marry on Thursday night in which to learn his part... Susan Christopher's cakes were the delight of the cast following the rehearsals... one of the cakes disappeared one night and parts of it were found the next day in front of the bank... the banks may have closed down but we can't believe the bankers were so hungry as to steal a cake... the show was put on in eight days, which is the fastest Miss Roubertush has ever put one on... Miss Roubertush was born and brought up on a farm in Ohio... was valedictorian of her class in Harrison high school... student at the University of Cincinnati... three reporters were kept busy a week ago Monday night with a fire, a suicide and a rehearsal... the most exciting moment in the play was between Acts II and III when one of the young men remembered he had forgotten his dress suit tie... Charlie Gillard was both Brother Jones and Rev. Turnipseed... two-faced, huh?... the show is being played in Weston April 20 and 21.

"The following self-explanatory notice was posted at the Pacific Mills Monday:

"The present wage scale of the Pacific Mills will be reduced, the reduction to take effect Monday, April 10.

"The Pacific is one of the few Lawrence mills which has kept running practically full time during the period of depression, and the reduction in wages made necessary by present conditions has been deferred as long as possible.

No, the strangely familiar news item above is not a clipping from a newspaper of the last three years, but it was copied verbatim from the Andover Townsman of just twenty-five years ago, April 3, 1908. Somehow, many people seem to have the notion that the word "depression" was a strictly modern term, younger than the word "radio" and not much older than "Technocracy."

That notion is undoubtedly due to youthful ignorance, but yet it illustrates how "wrapped up" we all are in the present difficulties and how we have forgotten that the nation has had depressions before and come through beautifully.

The sign now so popular in stores and on the backs of machines expresses it perfectly: "The depression was terrible, wasn't it?"

At the beginning of the week a little boy came into the office and presented us with this little tin Memorial piece for his cat which had disappeared.

Fluff, known as Fluffy or Fluffiness, has passed into the great beyond, leaving a sorrowing mistress. It is here hinting that we should render him final tribute.

He was a kindly, small, and very independent cat. Intelligent, inquisitive (most cats) he developed a warm spot in the heart of those who knew him.

He was good at catching mice, and it is thought that he met his death by poison from a rat.

Although he is gone, those that knew him, will never forget him. J. L. Thursday night the same little boy came in and said, "Don't put that piece in. The cat came back."

Read and Heard

We note that Judge Pinckney of Chicago has traced four-fifths of the 32,000 bad-child cases that have come into the Juvenile Court there during his seven-year term to parental neglect or indifference.

The fathers are the worst, and Judge Pinckney's notion of it is to thrash the father when the boy goes wrong. We prefer the idea now abroad in Des Moines and elsewhere of stirring up interest and enthusiasm in the whole father-and-son problem.

The boys grow up has been altogether too much turned over to the schools, and it needs just the sort of non-professional intensive cultivation that the Iowa city's "Better Fathers" club seem likely to provide. It is worth while to have the older men get together and compare notes as to the problems and progress of the younger generation. If a man's sons are not as interesting to him as his pigs or golf, he will drift away from them, and they from him. It is all a part of our modern overspecialization. A great many men in this country earn a living, but that is about all they bring to the family life. The boy is a baby or in school or out for himself, but seldom a close friend, seldom a member of the living future, and his father hardly ever gets a glimpse of the joy which hope that there shall be fair and honest relations between them. Family prosperity can never make up for the want of those kindly relations which people of good will take pains to establish between themselves, and that of father and son should be among the closest and best.

Communication

Editor of the Townsman:

It might prove very interesting to see an itemized account of the amount of money spent by Phillips academy among the merchants and contractors of Andover, as indicated by the list of figures published in your last issue. It seems like an unfair inference that this money is spent with all dealers of the town. There are many dealers who do not receive anything from the academy.

While we are discussing these matters of special interest to the town and all its people, let's be fair and not attempt to create false impressions. No one is kicking about the academy being in town, although it does not pay its just share of taxes. The only objection appears to be the interference of the academy in the affairs of the people. If another school wishes to come here, there should be no objections; especially when it can in no way be associated with the fair name of the academy.

We wonder if a list of the merchants receiving a share of the money spent with merchants and contractors" will be published.

Driver Held for Drunken Driving

Robert T. Grimes of Mount Vernon road, North Reading, was released on $350 bail Monday morning in District court when he appeared on a charge of operating under the influence of liquor. He was arrested about one o'clock Sunday morning as a result of an accident near the Arden estate in Shawsheen village. Officers Deyermund and Stevens were notified of the accident about 12.30 a.m. and on arriving at the scene they found a car across the car tracks with the front end facing the street. The car, owned and operated by William P. Renny of 10 Elm street, was badly damaged in the left side. Renny stated that he had been going toward Lawrence when a car coming from Lawrence came over his side of the road and hit him. The driver of the other car was asked where his car was and he pointed to Andover square, but seeing no cars in sight the officers investigated and found that the car had gone through an opening in the stone wall and down over a banking. It stopped about 150 feet after the collision. The case was continued until Monday.

NEWS OF OTHER DAYS

Twenty-Five Years Ago

A valuable horse owned by A. Basso, the local fruit dealer, died Monday after a short sickness. Mrs. J. A. McKee and daughter Shirley have gone to Hartford, Conn., for a visit of a few weeks. Rev. Frank R. Shipman, Mrs. Shipman and Miss Shipman of this town are the guests of the Prince George Hotel, of New York City. Rev. F. A. Wilson and son Eric are visiting in New York City and vicinity. Mrs. Jules Duval and Miss Anna Chase have been spending the week in New York. One hundred and fifty young men of St. Augustine's church organized a Holy Name society last evening. With such a fine start the new organization is sure to prove a great success. The following officers were elected: President, John H. McDonald; secretary, J. Daly; treasurer, P. J. Barrett. Miss Lucy Abbott is confined to her home by illness. Two burglaries were reported to the police this morning. The first was at the home of Percival Dove on Abbot street, where a window on the lower floor was pried open with a jimmy. Mrs. Dove turned on a light, and the thieves became frightened and made their departure. Nothing was stolen. The burglars then went to the home of Warren K. Moorehead. Mr. Moorehead secured his revolver and started an investigation. He discovered the burglars and fired two shots at them, but neither took effect. Among the students on the honor roll at Phillips academy for the winter term were Gaylord Merritt Gates, '10; Charles Carleton Kimball, '09; John Joseph McIntosh, '09; and John Radford Abbot, '10; all of Andover. The first of the Punched Alumni dances was held in Punched hall last Friday night, April 3. The affair was a very pretty one. The matrons were Mrs. Colver J. Stone, Mrs. Lewis T. Hardy and Miss Jacobs. At 20 School street, April 7, a daughter, Priscilla Brooks, to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Whittemore of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Later between thirty and forty of the unemployed men appeared to discuss working conditions, especially the recent discussion of the board to hire their help from the Emergency Committee lists.

Mr. Kidd, acting spokesman for the unemployed present, requested that the superintendent of the B. P. W. be again allowed the privilege to hire men without their having to go through the investigation the emergency committee conducts.

Many of the men present, he asserted, looked upon the emergency committee records as a stigma; that is, they did not want to be recorded as seeking relief, yet the men had to work and if they went to the committee, the chances were that they would receive nothing, he said.

It was alleged by those present that to get relief, he said, that the men wanted to be fair, but they did not want to go through the Emergency Committee channels; they would much rather take their chance of getting a day's work through the medium of the B. P. W. office.

If necessary, he asserted, the unemployed would call a special town meeting, the unemployed would call a special town meeting.

Frank A. Buttrick, secretary of the B. P. W., then told the men that his board needed time to straighten out certain matters regarding the buying of materials for necessary projects, before they could delve into the unemployed angle. He told them that the B. P. W. would take their plea under consideration.

Mr. McIntyre also said the same, adding that the B. P. W. would meet with the Emergency Committee later in the evening.

being held in abeyance for a few months and all the bids received were returned to the dealers because a reduction in freight rates is expected soon. All the town departments are buying their coal on the open contract instead of separately as heretofore. The school department is planning to use the same quantity as the Board of Public Works have been using for the past few years. Until the final order is placed, emergency supplies of coal are being furnished at the same price as last year.

The attempt to procure lower electricity rates for the schools was dropped when it was discovered that the schools were receiving the same rate as the other town departments here and in the neighboring communities. It would be necessary to go to the Public Utilities commission at the State House before anything could be done.

Mr. Doherty reported three projects which had been mentioned at the Emergency committee meeting last week. One of these, the moving of rocks from the rear of the Shawheen school, would require an expenditure of about $50 for a team and drag and for dynamite. The Emergency Committee would provide the labor. It was voted to go ahead with this project and also with the repairing and reconstruction of the walks at the central plant. About $175 is needed for material on the latter job, and here again the Emergency committee would supply the labor.

The Bradlee school lawn was also mentioned and it was felt that putting a new lawn there would mean more expense than is allowable on the present appropriation. It was understood that the whole lawn might have to be replaced. This would cost between $2500 and $3000, whereas the repairs in the budget is only $4000.

On the matter of athletics for the girls of the high school the Finance committee reported that no great expense could be incurred this year, but that they recommended an appropriation of $50 for equipment for volleyball ball, kitten ball or some other such game.

Dr. Nathaniel Stowers made the suggestion at the meeting that the sub-committee on buildings and grounds investigate the cost of changing the present location of the showers in Pynchard high school to the rear of the building and also to set aside a room for recreation activities. He stated that the Andover town football team had no showers to use after their games, and also that James N. Cole, Stowe school coach, had no place for his charges to work out in on rainy days. The present location is poor in that there is nothing to keep the boys from running through the high school building. The sub-committee had already made a preliminary investigation and now will go ahead with specific costs.

Three gentlemen were present at the beginning of the meeting with a request that a teacher be provided for their children and for three other children in town who are unable to learn in a school but who it was stated could learn with individual instruction. Malden and Melrose provide such teachers. In Melrose there are 25 pupils and the teacher is paid $1550 and ten dollars a month for transportation. In Malden there is a teacher for every six pupils, and they are paid the regular school rate. Another child who has infantile paralysis was also mentioned. Later the committee voted to instruct the superintendent to secure further information on these children.

Mr. Sanborn's monthly report it was stated that the expenditures to date were well below the average. He also stated that from 125 to 140 children stay for the noon hour at John Dove, and that hereafter they would not be allowed to do so unless they lived three-quarters of a mile away. The town committee had appropriated $160 for the payment of a tuition bill to the town of North Reading. Since that time a new bill has been received for $76.50 for transportation for these children. Mr. Sanborn is now investigating to see if the town has to pay this bill. In commenting on the cost of text-books the superintendent reported that there had been practically no reduction in the cost of pre-1926 books, but in new books there was a reduction of from 5 percent to 20 percent.

Selectmen Confer on School Question

A delegation of West Andover residents in favor of the building of the proposed State school for feeble minded in West Andover met Monday by the Board of Selectmen. The meeting was for the purpose of securing the selectmen's help to go before the legislature and present the attitude of the people of Andover regarding the school.

Joseph S. Chambers asked the board where they stood on this issue. He was told by Frank H. Hardy, chairman of the board that the selectmen always stood with the majority of the people regardless of their personal feelings on any matter.

Mr. Hardy further said that the board would be glad at any time to go before the legislature and present the vote of the people. It was brought out by Mr. Hardy that in a conversation with the late Dr. Kline of the State Department of Mental Diseases, Dr. Kline had said that there would be very few if any of the unemployed hired here in Andover should the school be built here.

Only One Change in Town Officers

The annual list of appointments by the Board of Selectmen shows little change over the preceding year. The only salaried position in which there is a change is that of Inspector of Animals. C. LeRoy Ambye has been named to this position, which was held last year by Dr. Roy Youmans.

The list of those appointed by the Board follows:

George H. Winslow, clerk of board of selectmen, assessed on board of public welfare for one year at $450.00.

William C. Brown, janitor of town house for one year at $25.20 per week; public weigher in charge of town scales for one year at $90.00; and deputy sealer of weights and measures.

Mr. Chambers then said that Dr. Kline had told him different, that a great majority of the unemployed would be hired here. The meeting then developed into a discussion of the work the unemployed of Andover would receive.

Late during the meeting Phillips academy was again attacked by one of the delegation present regarding their tax payments. Mr. Hardy warmly defended the academy and was in turn accused of siding with the school.

Mr. Hardy then denounced the speaker, stating that he would not stand by and see the academy abused, nor any of them for that matter.

He then adjourned the meeting.

The appropriation of $125,000 by the state for the purpose of building a State School for feeble minded, now reduced to the amount of $118,000 is still available and will be until June 10 of this year.

The amount of $125,000 when appropriated in June 1931 was appropriated for two years and therefore this cannot expire until June 1933. An attempt is being made to have this money transferred for the purpose of additional building at the Norlek prison colony.

Changing Concepts Stressed in Talk

The transition from learning by rote to learning by analysis was set forth Wednesday night at the Andover Parent-Teachers' association meeting by Miss Catherine Taylor, principal of the Shady Hill school in Cambridge. Miss Taylor, in developing her subject, "Children's Needs and School Planning," stated that formerly children were trained to a pattern of life, but now that is no longer so. Memory no longer does the job anymore, she said; today it is the capacity to observe, to look at something analytically, to take facts and organize them, that is most important. Fewer facts used more completely is the goal of modern education, she asserted. Emphasis has been shifted in recitations. There is more collaboration between teacher and pupil. There is no longer discussions on things already known, but an attempt to ferret out new facts. Periods are longer, there is a less sharp subdivision of subject matter, and informal atmosphere prevails.

The attendance banner was won by Miss Eunice Stack's room for the highest percentage of parents present.

Stowe School Notes

The new 4-H garden club for Stowe school boys was organized March 30 under the supervision of Mrs. F. G. Cheney. The first item of business was the election of officers. They are as follows: President, Edward Cherowbrier; secretary, Needham Brown, in Andover have more or less put a crimp in attendance at entertainments of all sort, and those in charge of "Henry's Wedding" can well be pleased with the number attending the production last week.

To mention any one of the cast as outstanding would be unfair to the other members, for the group as a whole played very well. Among those who helped put on the production were Miss Margaret Davis, Mrs. Robert Franz, Mrs. Charles Gabler and Miss Katherine Roubertush.

The play is being put on by the Grange in Weston April 20 and 21. Many of the Andover cast are planning to attend.
