

Befuddled

by Jessica Leung

Help
In my world
Oh so befuddling
My life so busy as my Days roll by,
Ice-skating, dance, piano, school and
Other activities topple over my mind
Homework pounds me
To be completed
Screaming at me like the gruesome wind's howl.
Acting oh so fowl.

Decimals to place, fractions, percents,
Egypt to Nubia onto traveling the Nile.
Essays and journals to fill up
Verbs to conjugate, and Demented looking cells to be drawn
Silly skits to perform.
Quiz today,
Test tomorrow
MCAS and time to Study, study, study,
Until my head explodes,
KaBOOM!

Don't get enough sleep
My eyes with dark circles
Of the need to sleep
The need to have more free time
Sometimes.
Things drag my back down,
So heavy and painful.
My life goes by in a single blur,
Going from here to there, and there to where?