

The Time of Winter

by Jackie Dean

Under a pillow,
Grass hibernates
As the snow glides down
Gradually, delicately
Landing on a blanket
Of other flakes that have Fallen before