

Descent with Modification

by Ang Gao

I don't remember smiling to the highlighters lying on the floor
Or even talking to them about the weather
I don't remember the color of my nails,
Or if my coffee had sugar, I may have been drinking tea.
Instead, my body was sitting still. Trying to memorize the concepts of evolution---
A change in the gene pool over time,
Speciation can occur allopatricly or sympatricly.
And all the while time constantly reminding me of the test I will have and the beginning of my new semester. But it was winter, and still very cold outside.
