"Show Boat," first produced almost twenty years ago, and revived in 1932, is back, for instance, and as terrific as ever. Believable human beings, decent impulses and the glorification of the more wholesome things of life mark every minute of the show.

On the other hand, there is that sign in 12-foot letters in Times Square that should help place some of the responsibility for juvenile crime, "Rougher and Tougher Than Murder, My Sweet!"

I will tie a missing fly.

Miami Beach is one of the few places on earth benefited by the war. It had a boom all through the disturbance. If Germans had held out another year, there wouldn't have been a room in the place under $500 a week, without bath.

And if the Japs hadn't quit as they did, any realtor would have been able to sell a covered wagon for the price of a waterfront hotel.

The navy is being recostumed, with those historic side-down pants, sailor collars and demi-tasse hats doing a fade out for snappier and more modernistic clothing.

Tradition is a fine thing and the old-time sailor suit was good enough for countless stout-hearted Americans to fight and die in, but nobody could feel swankily tailored in it.

Some people say, however, that the change was a fine thing: It made the wearer fighting mad.

The change is not official yet, but the navy is trying out completely new uniforms for Jack Tars, and they are fully as smart as the army, marines and aircorps. Panta are pants, the buttons are in the right place and there is no lacing remotely associated with them. The old blouse with the wide collar is also gone, as is the traditional sailor hat.

Strike up the band,
Here comes a sailor.
Freed from (at last)
Farragut's tailors!

You can now join the navy and look as good as if you were in the army.

Announcement

On or about March 15th I hope to be able to retire from business. I have already sold the package store, on Barnard Street, known as the Andover Cordial Shop, to Mr. Joseph W. McNally, a native townsmen, who has been the manager of the Cordial Shop for the past three years. I am sure he will conduct the Cordial Shop in the manner the citizens of Andover want that type of business to be conducted. He will give you a telephone service, a delivery service and an accommodation service to reliable people. His telephone is Andover 270. I highly recommend him for your consideration.

Now that the meat packers' strike and all the other strikes which have been holding back the great prosperity boom which is sure to come are over, I wish to sell my grocery, meat and fish market to some local people, if I can. The last three years have taken so much energy out of me to keep the store up to its high standard, that I must find younger people to carry it on. The store has been established for almost thirty years. It has grown larger every year and I am told it is one of the largest and best market and grocery stores in the Merrimack Valley.

James E. Greeley, President

Temporarily we have put a moratorium on sugar. It will remain until the shortage of sugar is over.

Why This Is Necessary

We have taken sugar stamps from our customers that amount to over 1600 lbs. We gave these stamps to the sugar broker—he in turn gave them to the sugar refinery. The refinery gave the broker only 1/3 of what he needed—the broker only gave us 1/3 of what we needed. So we can only supply 1/3 of the names on our sugar list.

We feel we owe our customers 1200 lbs. of sugar, and until we get that sugar in this store and fill our obligations, we will stop taking any more sugar stamps. This should take about two or three weeks.

Question for the Consumer: Why did they issue sugar stamps and have no sugar behind them?

Another Question: Why were all the red ration stamps cancelled one year ago? That has never been explained, either.

*By New England, in this advertisement, we mean the

About $35,000,000 will be invested in new telephone plant this year. It will give New England some 100,000 more telephones than it had in 1945. It will put more people than ever within reach of your telephone.

The installations planned for 1946 call not only for new telephones, but for new central office equipment, more wires and cables, new land and buildings. The job will be spread over five New England states . . . will cover 58,307 square miles . . . will include hundreds of communities, each with its special requirements.
It's like building the complete telephone plant for a city of 350,000 . . . but vastly more complex, considering the wide area covered and the number of individual problems involved.

This big construction program has already enabled us to fill thousands of requests for telephone service. By late summer, we hope to fill all orders now on hand, and many, of course, will be filled long before that time.

Deaths...
GEORGE A. MELLEN
One of New England's outstanding journalists, and one of Andover's prominent citizens, died suddenly at his home, 5 William street, Saturday evening following a heart attack. He was at his desk as usual on Saturday, and his passing later in the day came as a great shock to family and friends.

He was born in Lawrence in 1874 and attended the public schools there. He graduated from Brown University in 1895, having been elected to Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year. A 45,000-dollar drive to the 300th anniversary of the town was under way this week in an effort to make the $2000 for a new fire alarm station, to carry out the plans for the 300th anniversary. The bearers were six department heads of the Eagle-Tribune newspaper and the ushers were also employees of the Eagle-Tribune and Radio Station WLAW.
The clothing drive held Sunday was not nearly as successful as it was expected to be, perhaps due to the fact that the supply of old clothes was exhausted in last spring's drive. At that time 17,000 lbs. of clothing for the needy people in the countries of Europe was collected when the drive ended on April 31st. This year only 7,000 lbs. have been collected, with the drive due to end on January 31st. So it begins to look as though Andover had failed badly in this year's drive, unless a great deal more clothing is left at the pick-up stations between now and Sunday, February 3rd.

There were about 20 trucks used to carry out this worthy cause and these were donated by the Shawsheen Motor Mart, Watson-Park Company, and the Board of Public Works.

Editorial

We'll keep our hands off, our mouths shut, and our minds open. It's been that way in the past and it's our intention to keep it that way. We'll leave the political humdinger, the election campaign, and all the rest to be as political as we should be, to ourselves. The editorial committee will try to help the town itself to have the best government and the best results for the men and women who elect the town officials. For modern town, this is not an easy task.

But the democratic process always change in. It is always being changed. Everyone knows that our critics are right. The town doesn't have a chance to be on the side of the winning ticket. Only those called "notable enough" have a chance to get elected. And the ones who are called "notable enough" are usually the ones who are not. But the democratic process is the best for the town. It is always the best.

This is the best reason why we want this by-election. If the candidates who win this by-election have real political ability they will have real political ability. If the candidates who win this by-election have real political ability they will have real political ability. If the candidates who win this by-election have real political ability they will have real political ability.

Editorial

A Change Due?

Well, it looks like the good old days! Candidates, with contests! Even a contest for moderator!

It's been a long time since there was much doubt about an election, but now here we have a good-old-timer fight on our hands, with chances pretty good that there will be new faces in town office. The selectman's contest looks like a humdinger, with the voters in discussing it apparently inclined to be as positive and vigorous as the two principal candidates themselves usually are. The regular members of the school committee unfortunately don't have any opposition—people should have opposition to make them take stock of themselves.

For moderator at present we can't even guess.

But there's one position that we really must make a change in. The running of the department of public works as everyone knows has not been what it should be. We have done our criticizing of the superintendent and of the Board; if the town doesn't change the board this year, the voters will have only themselves to blame. The two present members are likeable enough personally; they have their good points, as everyone does—but on the Board of Public Works they have been notoriously weak, with perhaps a desire to do what they thought best for the town but without the ability to decide what was best.

This is the year when we the voters must do something about this board. For a while it didn't look too good as far as candidates were concerned, but now we definitely have a field with real potentialities, including a man who has had years of successful experience in business and another who knows both from theory and from actual experience the problems that the public works department has. It really looks very hopeful, but it's up to the voters of this town now to get out and work, to espouse the cause of the two best candidates, and to do their part on election day by going to the polls and voting for them.

Red Cross Helped Servicemen

A great many questions are being asked these days about the place of the Red Cross in the life of the nation now that the war is over. Is there need for its support on an extensive basis? Do its services require financial underwriting and do those services justify continued generous giving?

Andover may well be proud of its chapter for the record of the past year. Its operation covered sixteen areas of activities involving the spending of thousands of hours of time by volunteers, the expenditure of thousands of dollars in providing services in town and throughout the world as a local Red Cross chapter. In his annual report last year Chairman Carleton Kimball, speaking on "Home Service" revealed that one secretary and eleven specially trained volunteers had given 2,954 hours of service in providing aid to servicemen and their families, giving assistance to servicemen on their discharge, and giving information on prisons of war. More than 350 individuals and families turned to the chapter for help this past year.

The chapter has been active in sending radios, furniture, books, playing cards, and other articles to military camps and hospitals. Then in the field of production which earlier had sewed and knit garments the Andover Red Cross women turned out 2,954 pieces for hospitals, for refugees, and for the army and navy.

The Andover campaign for Red Cross will be conducted during the month of March under the direction of the Faultless Rubber Co. at Ashland, Ohio, served in Washington during the war as a consultant to the Rubber Bureau of the War Production Board. Associated with the Tyer Rubber Co. since 1927 he has been president of that concern since 1929.

March of Dimes Ball Nets $1000

About $1000 was netted as a result of the very successful March of Dimes ball held at the Memorial auditorium on Wednesday evening, February 14, with some 900 persons braving the not too good weather. Close to $1600 was collected, with expenses around $500. Of the $1000, $500 will go to the Infantile Paralysis Fund and $500 to the Andover Service Men's Fund association.

There was a very impressive grand march, led by Hon. Walter Coolidge, president of the State Senate, and his wife, with selectman and Mrs. Roy E. Hardy next in line. J. Everett Collins directed the march.

Those who have not yet sent their donations are urged to do so immediately to tax collector James P. Christie at the town house.
