What is Poetry?
Christine Zhou

What is poetry?
Is it a clever twist of words?
Is it a release of an imagined bird?
Is it a mix of many rhymes?
Is it merely a waste of time?

What is poetry?
Is it the line where life and death merge?
Is it a reply to the writing urge?
Is it the success of a lifelong dream?
Is it the part you play in your team?

What is poetry?
Is it the calm midst storms unfolding?
Is it the sound of the tower bell tolling?
Is it the song of a dove's sweet calling?
Is it the bed into which you’re falling?

What is poetry?
Is it the steady tick of a grandfather clock?
Is it the smooth sides of a playing block?
Is it the laughter of the castle’s page?
Is it the blowing winds of change?

What is poetry?
Poetry is the lyrics of heart.
Poetry is the life in which we all take part.
Poetry is the light in the night.
Poetry is the comfort of arms 'round us tight.
